Jordan – Syrian refugees

The total number of refugees received from the berm (since 8th of March) is around 22,000 of which 4,743 were screened and reallocated to the unfenced area of village 2, 3 and 6 as of 21 June.

Since the car attack in Rukban on 21 June, the government of Jordan declared the northern and north-eastern borders as “sealed military zone” and no movement from the berm to Azraq camp has occurred since then.

As of mid-June, the estimate of the population stranded at the berm stood at 77,000 with some 65,000 people in Rukban and around 12,000 individuals at Hadalat.

There are anecdotal reports of daily movements of around 15-20 Syrian families from Rukban into Syria.

Registered Syrian Refugees in Jordan: 655,217 as of 1 June
